

Klan Guys

The Legend of Balinese DonMu – Book One (Part II of III) – Chapter 29

What the hell?

We all looked down at Wing's phone. Sitting there on the desk in front of us. With this new voice coming out of it. And all of us wondering who – or what – it could be.

"Who's dat out der?! ... who's dat rustling about out der?!" The voice called out again.

"What the hell's that?" I said staring down at the phone. Trying to figure out who – or what – or where – the voice was coming from. Then looked up at one of the side monitors and saw LC halfway up an Acacia tree – on the side of the woodshed – placing the portable Bluetooth speaker up there then shimmying back down and scrambling out of there.

"Oh, sweet!" I said pointing up at the monitor and almost forgetting about asking them to do that for us. "Check it out you guys. It's LC putting the speaker up in the Acacia tree so we can mess with the Klan guys." Now turning back to Olof and Wing while getting ready to start this new ruse with them. "It must have been LC they heard 'rustling about' out there. Hey Wing, can you pull the woodshed camera up on the main screen and then grab the app on your phone so we can communicate with them through the speaker?"

"Oh yeah." He said grabbing his phone and pulling the app up then handing it to me.

Sweet!

I turned back to him. "Do I just press the 'Talk' button here when I want to communicate with them?"

He nodded his head up and down as I leaned back in my chair trying to figure out what I was going to do here. Or what I was actually gonna say to them.

Then put the phone right up to my mouth.

"Hello??" I said all soft and confused. "Hello? ... is someone in there talking to me?"

"Yeah, we're talking to you boy! ... whatchu doing out der ... why you rustling about out der?!" He said sounding a tad upset and ornery. In his high-pitched nasally voice as we all looked up at the main monitor and saw Keith-Kyle Klanz standing by the side of the woodshed – like trying to look through it or something – in his raggedy-old jeans, mullet haircut, Confederate Flag t-shirt, and wrap-around Oakley blades looking around all frazzled and confused.

"State yur naaaaaaame 'n yur biz-ness boy." He added.

I thought about that. And what would constitute my 'biz-ness' here. As well as my best course of action considering we wanted to do all the Ancient Alien, CIA, Q'Anon, secret magic weapon stuff with them. Then thought about Indah, and me wanting to show her some kind of good progress and positive results by the time she came back, and me also wanting to get the Klan guys to not be so racist and antisemitic. Then realized it was going to be really difficult to get the Klan guys to not be so racist and antisemitic by six o'clock. So thought maybe there was something else we could do with them ... something more subtle ... and gradual ... like slowly ingratiating ourselves in with them ... and befriending them ... earning their trust ... and doing the Made long-con kind of thing.

So I rustled up the best southern-Appalachian-Klan redneck voice I could, and gave it my best shot.

"Well ..." I started. Then stopped. Then thought about it some more. "My name's Jeff and my biz-ness iz ... I'z not rightly sure. I'z just kinda rustlin' about out here ... does dat count as biz-ness?"

We could see them mulling that one over. Thinking bout dat. With Keith-Kyle Klanz rubbing his goatee. Wunnerin' bout dat. Then turning over to Cooter, Muskrat and Varmint, who were wunnerin' 'bout dat too. Looking around all confused. Mumbling things. 'N trying to figure out if rustling about counted as biz-ness ... or if I was just up to sum kinda no good.

"Well ... how we spoze ta know you'z not one o' dem minorities out der tryin' ta git in here ta gits our freedoms from us?" Keith-Kyle Klanz said now trying to look through the side of the woodshed.

I thought about that. And what constituted a minority – in Bali – in a reverse-slave-based plantation ruse – and what their definition of the word 'freedom' was. So just answered back the best I could, while also trying to ingratiate myself in with 'em.

"Well, back home in Alabama ... in the good 'ol U.S. of A ... they call me White Jeff. So does that prove I'm not a minority?"

Their eyes kinda widened. And mouths somewhat puckered. Looking around impressed. As we could see them mulling dat one over. Mumbling things to each other. And nodding their heads up and down.

"Yeeaaahhh, dat just might ... dat just might ... I mean, dats a purdy good start ... but how'z we'z supposed ta knowz you'z really 'n 'Merican ... 'n not a minority ... only saying you'z 'n 'Merican 'n notza minority ... whenz ya really arez a minority ... 'n not 'n 'Merican ... just pretending ta be 'n 'Merican in orders ta try 'n git in here ta gits our freedoms from us?"

I paused on dat. Olof and Wing paused on dat too. Looking over at me. Wunnerin' how I was going to get myself outta dis one.

Uhhhhhh ...

"Hold on a minute der ... just hold on a minute ... dat just confused me ... dat just really confused me ... canya gimme a minute ta think on dat one?"

Cooter scratched his head on dat one too. "Yeah, dat just confused me too Keith-Kyle?"

"Quiet down der Cooter, Gawdammit!" Keith-Kyle sounded somewhat upset.

"Hey!" I spoke up. "Can I ask ya sumpin'?"

He paused a second.

"Yeah, what's dat?"

"Can I ask ya who it is I'm talking to in der? Like can I ask ya what your name is?"

"Dat's Keith-Kyle Klanz you'z talking ta boy so you'd better show sum respect!" Cooter yelled out.

“Gaaaaawwwdammit Cooter!” Keith-Kyle Klanz slapped his hand on his knee. “Don’t go yelling out my name like dat. We still haven’t figgur’d out if White Jeff’s a minority or not. Jesus H. Christ, what da hell’z wrong witchu?”

“Ohhhhhh yeeeeaaaah ...” Cooter sounded defeated. “Sorry ‘bout dat Keith-Kyle. I just wuzn’t thinkin’ on dat one.”

“No’z you’z weren’t, Cooter. Noooo’z ... yoouuu’z ... weren’t. ‘N dat’s why you’z gotsta leave da thinkin’ ta me ... ‘n lets me be da one figgurin’ da things out roun’ here.”

“Hey!” I called out. “Did I just hear your name’s Keith-Kyle Klanz?”

He hesitated a minute.

“... uuuhhhhhmmmmmaybe”

“Well, if it is ... dat’s a purdy bad-ass name. There’s like 3 K’s in that, huh? I betcha everyone back home calls you Trip K’s? Dat’s purdy sweet.”

We saw them all looking around at each other. Somewhat surprised. As well as impressed.

“Well, gawddammnn ...” Trip-K’s now nodded along. “Dat is purdy sweet.” Nodding his head up and down. “Yeah, I think I like dat name too ... Trip-K’s, huh? ... yeah, dat is purdy bad-ass.” Now turning back over to Cooter ‘n probably wunnerin’ why he dun never cum up wid dat name before.

“Gaaaaawwwdammit Cooter! How cum you dun never cum up wid dat name for me before? I mean what da hell? We’ve only known White Jeff for like two seconds here ‘n he’s already cum up wid a bad-ass name for me ‘n I’ve known you my whole life ‘n you dun-never cum up wid shit.”

Cooter looked around all confused. Scratching his head. Wunnerin’ ‘bout dat, while Trip-K’s continued on.

“Well alright White Jeff ... alright ... dat is a purdy bad-ass name. Dat’s for damn sure ... ‘n I’z dun glad you’z cum up with dat name ... but first things first ... if ya really wantsta prove you’z ‘n ‘Merican ... ‘n not a minority ... den you’z gotsta pass a test.”

“Ok.” I said.

“Alright den ...” He said straightening himself out and getting himself ready. “Now der’s three questions on da test ... are’z ya ready for da first question?”

“Yup, I’z ready.” I said.

“Ok den ... now da first question is straight outta ‘Merican history ... so it’s ‘n easy one.” He said glancing around at Cooter ‘n da boyz while also clearing his throat. “Ok den ... here we go ...” Now pausing for effect. “What wuz da greatest battle Ol’ General Stonewall Jackson of da Confederate ever fought against dem dirty no-good Unioners?”

Ol’ Stonewall Jackson?

I looked over at Olof and Wing. And motioned for Wing to do a quick Google search on his laptop. So he opened it up and frantically started typing away. Clicking on different things. Then turned back to me.

“There too many results. I no know which one is best.”

Dammit.

So I tried to collect my thoughts. And just did the best I could.

“Well shucks, Trip-K’s ... Ol’ Stonewall fought so many great battles that it’s hard to say which one wuz da greatest. But if you’re gonna put me on the spot here ... den I guess I’z gonna say it’s da one where he kicked the livin’ shit outta that dumbass Ulysses S. Grant next to the greatest river in the whole world ... the Mississippi River!”

We saw them all looking around at each other. Nodding their heads up and down. Extremely impressed.

“Well, ok den ... okay ... dat’s not too bad ... not too bad at all ... I mean dat wasn’t really da battle we wuz looking for ... but dat wuz a purdy darn good battle. Dat’s for dang sure.” He said glancing around at da others, rather pleased and impressed. “But ok, White Jeff ... here comes da next question ... are’z ya ready for it?”

“Yup, I’z ready.”

“Ok, den ...” He paused for effect. “What did ‘Q’ drop on December 21, 2020?”

Oh, Lord.

I looked back over at Olof and Wing.

“Don’t look at us.” Olof said. “We don’t know that shit.”

“And I’m not Googling it.” Wing added.

Crap.

So I tried to collect my thoughts. And just did the best I could.

“Hey, Trip K’s ... do I get like a pass card here ... or like a Life-Line or something like that? I mean that’s gotta be fair, right?”

He considered dat. Den gave off a few quick mutterings.

“Yeah, ok ... ok, fine. Dats your one pass card White Jeff. But da next question ya have to git or else you’z definitely a minority.”

“Ok, that’s fair. That’s totally fair.”

“Ok, den ... here we go ...” We could see him getting ready in the woodshed. “What’s da 4th song, on da second side of Lynyrd Skynyrd’s first album?”

I looked back at Olof and Wing. Where Wing was busy typing away. Then he turned back to me and showed me the result. And I smiled cause I definitely knew this one.

“Well gawwdammnnn Trip K’s. Dat’s only the greatest song ever recorded in the whole history of the world ... Freebird!!”

They all looked around at each other. Extremely impressed.

“Well hot-damn!!! Hotdamn indeed! I think we got ourselves a good ‘ol fashioned ‘Merican boys. Whoooo Wheeee!”

“Hey White Jeff?!” Cooter yelled out all excited. “Dat’s da greatest song in da whole wide world, huh?!”

“Oh, heck yeah Cooter, dat’s a great ‘ol song!”

Trip-K’s now nodded along approvingly. “Well, alright White Jeff ... alright ... dat’s not too bad ... not too bad at all ...” Now starting to look a bit more serious and take things down a notch. “But first things first ... we’z dun proved youz ‘n Merican ‘n not a minority ... which is great ‘n all ... but we’ve also got ourselves in quite a bit of a situation here.”

“A situation?”

“Yeah, a situation.”

“Well, what’s da situation?”

“We’z gots ourselves completely surrounded by minorities trying ta git in here ‘n gits our freedoms from us.”

Uhhhh ...

“Ok?”

“But not ta worry ... not ta worry at all ...” He started to rub his hands together. “Cuz we’z gots ourselves a plan ...”

“Sweet. What’s da plan?”

I stopped. And scrunched my face up ... a wall? ... Then looked over at Olof and Wing, who scrunched their faces up too.

Awww, what the heck ...

“Oh, heck yeah Trip-K’s. Dat’s a sweet ‘ol plan. Dat’s something ol’ Stonewall would do.”

“Oh, heck yeah he would ... dat’s also sumpin’ ‘ol Donald J. ‘Stonewall’ Trump would do.”
... Donald J. ‘Stonewall’ Trump?? ... “Keep dem minorities out ‘n make dem think twice about messin’ wid us ... ‘n trying ta git in here ‘n gits our freedoms from us.”

Then I thought about something else. Another part of their plan that was troubling me. And I needed some help on.

“But hey, Trip-K’s?”

“Yeah, what’s dat White Jeff?”

“Are you gonna build da wall on da inside or da outside of yur woodshed?”

He paused on dat.

“Hmmm ...” Wunnerin’ ‘bout dat. “... let me think on dat.” Then we heard him mullin’ it over with Cooter ‘n the boyz. Then finally get back to me.

“We gonna build it on da inside, White Jeff.”

Smart.

“Ok. Gotcha Trip-K’s. Dat’s smart. Dat’s real smart. ‘N does make a lotta sense.” Then stopped and reconsidered that. Cause I definitely needed some more help on dis one.

“But wait ... hold on a minute der ... why ya gonna build it on da inside instead of da outside of yur woodshed?”

“Gaawwwdammit!! Dat’s a dumb-ass question. We’z already gots a wall on da outside of da woodshed ... the actual woodshed wall ... so der’z no point in building another wall out der when we’z already gotz a wall out der. But if we build da wall on da inside of da woodshed den we’ll have an inside wall and ‘n outside wall which is better dan having two outside walls. Jesus H. Christ, White Jeff, what da hellz wrong witchu?”

Hmmmm ...

“Ok, gotcha Trip-K’s ... copy dat ... dats a big 10-4 on dat one ... but wait ...” Wunnerin’ ‘bout dis sum more ‘n trying to figure it all out. “Hold on a minute der ... cuz ... I wuz just wunnerin’ ... ‘n ... if ya build da wall on da outside of yur woodshed den wouldn’t dat just make your current outside wall ‘n inside wall which is da same thing as having an outside and ‘n inside wall?”

He paused on dat.

“No Gawwdammit!! If we build da wall on da outside of da woodshed den dat’ll just make da current outside wall ‘n inside wall ... ‘n da inside wall won’t be ‘n outside wall ... ‘n den we’ll just be stuck outside da outside wall ‘n unable to git back inside da inside or da outside wall, Jesus H. Christ, what da hellz wrong witchu?!”

I started to get confused.

“Yeaahhhh ... ok ... gotcha Trip-K’s ... ‘n I do see your point on dat one ... ‘n dat does make a lotta sense ... cuz ... ya definitely don’t wanna be stuck outside da outside wall, or da inside wall, ‘n unable ta git back inside yur woodshed.” Now wunnerin’ ‘bout dis sum more ‘n tryin’ ta figgur’ it all out ... “But, wait... what if ... maybe ... ya like built a secret tunnel or sumpin’ like dat unnerneath’ da outside wall, ‘n unnerneath da inside wall, so you can like tunnel yur way back unnerneath’ da inside wall ‘n da outside wall ‘n git back inside yur woodshed?”

He paused on dat too.

“What da hellz wrong withcu White Jeff?!! Have yu not been paying attention ta what I’z been saying tooz ya?! I just toldz ya we’z gots ourselves completely surrounded by minorities who r da ones who purdy much invented tunnelin’ unnerneath’ walls ... so why da hell would we go doing sumpin’ like dat? Jesus H. Christ, I’z gotsta wunner ‘bout you sumtimes.”

Yeah, I guess that did kinda make sense.

“Ok, gotcha Trip-K’s. Copy dat. ‘N dat’s a big 10-4 on dat one too. ‘N dat does make a lotta sense. But hey ... Trip K’s?”

Now thinking about this and how I should probably try and wrap my part up in this and come up with a better plan later for these guys cuz this one wasn’t really working out the way I thought it would and was starting to get a little confusing.

“Well ... it’s been great talking wid ya guys ... but ... I’z kinda gotsta run now.”

“Run?!” He looked around all confused. “Whatcha talkin’ ‘bout run? Where’z you’z gotsta runz off to?”

“Well ...” Wunnerin’ ‘bout dis some more. “Der ... like ... kinda having a big ‘ol party out here ‘n I kinda gotsta to get back to it.”

“A Party?!” Now looking around even more confused. Cooter too. “What da hell you talking about a party? You ain’t cavoortin’ wid da enemy are ya?”

“Oh, heck no Trip-K’s. I wouldn’t be doing sumpin’ like dat. I’z just be working undercover. Doing double-reverse trickery ‘n secret black-ops ... ‘n collecting intel ‘n stuff.”

“Oh yeah, dat’s smart. Dat’s good military strategery. And sumpin’ ol’ Stonewall would do.”

“Hey white Jeff?” Cooter now spoke up.

“Dat you Cooter?”

“Yeah, dat’s me.”

“Ahhh shucks Cooter, what’s going on der Big Dawg?”

“Ahhh, shucks ... not too much ya know ... just kinda hanging out with da fellas ‘n all ... having a good ‘ol time ... but hey ... lemme ask ya sumpin’ ... whatch y’all doing out der at da party?”

I thought about how to best answer that. While also trying to ingratiate myself in with ‘em.

“We’z just kinda drinking sum beer and listenin’ to sum Skynyrd.”

“Oh really?!” He sounded impressed.

“Oh, heck yeah Cooter. We also BBQ-ing and playing sum cornhole.”

“Oh Sweet!!” His eyes got wide. “Dat sounds like a good ‘ol time out der. Dat sounds like a real good time. But hey ... is der any women out der?”

“Oh, heck yeah der are Cooter. Der’s a lotta women out here ... now ... most o’ dem r minorities ‘n Commies ... but dat’s ok cause I gotsa secret plan to switch ‘em over to becoming ‘Mericans ... cuz I think I can do it ... I mean deyz already drinking beer ‘n listening ta Skynyrd with us, so I reckon dat’s a purdy good start!”

“Oh heck yeah, dat’s a great ‘ol start! ... ‘n dat’s what being ‘n ‘Mericanz all about!! Whoooo Wheeee!!”

Now a new voice came out – one I didn’t recognize – from the back part of the woodshed.

“Hey White Jeff?!”

“Yeah, who dat?”

“Yo, whattup Muskrat! How you living in there?”

“Oh, purdy good. Purdy good. Can’t complain ... but can I ask ya’ll sumpin’?”

“Sure Muskrat.”

He paused a second. “Dey uh ... dey uh gots any farms out there? ... wid like cows ‘n sheeps ‘n stuff?”

Hmmmm

“Naahhhhh ... dey ain’t really got any cows or sheeps out here Muskrat.”

“Uggggghhh ...” He sounded dejected.

“But they got pigs and chickens.” I added. “Would that work?” Now looking over at Olof and Wing and kinda shrugging my shoulders at them, while we could hear Muskrat mumbling something in the background. To himself. Or to Varmint sitting right next to him. Trying to figgur’ dat out.

“Yeah, dat’ll work.” He said a bit more upbeat now. “Dat’ll definitely work.”

“Ok, cool.”

“Hey White Jeff?” Cooter now spoke up again.

“Yeah, Cooter.”

“Hey ... uhhhh ... I’ma ... I’ma trying ta git out da door here ... so I can like join y’allz at da party ... but for sum reason can’t quite git it open ... I keep pushing on it but it seems to be like stuck or sumpin’?”

“Oh yeah,” I stopped and remembered what I’d asked LC to do. “There’s kinda a problem der Cooter.”

“A problem?”

“Yeah, a problem.”

“Well, what’s da problem?”

“Well, ya know doze minorities here?”

“Yeah?”

“Well ... dey kinda built a wall.”
