

Wing-Wang – Getting Handjobs

The Legend of Balinese DonMu – Book One (Part III of III) – Chapter 33

The hallway was quiet. Eerily quiet. With Wing just shuffling his way down it. Duck-waddling along while looking down at his clipboard with each person's room number written on it. Karen's being first. Plodding along in his baggy little uniform. Looking somewhat ridiculous on him. Dorky glasses on his face. Clipboard in his hand. Hair half-plastered down on the side of his head. Not really looking all that convincing but hopefully good enough.

He finally got in front of Karen's room and just stood there for a second. Straightening out his uniform. Licking his little fingers to re-plaster down his hair. Pushing his ill-fitting dorky-looking glasses back into place. Then finally taking a deep breath and knocking on the door as the three of us watched as Karen yanked the door open and just stood there for a second looking down at him with an oddly suspicious look on her face.

"Who the hell are you?!" She demanded. As the three of us giggled and Wing just stood there nervously shuffling about.

"Ummmm ... Hello ..." He purposely tried to look confused while rummaging through the papers on his clipboard. "Is this ..." Mumbling to himself and pretending like he couldn't read the name. "Is this Bee ... Bee-something's room?"

"You mean that dumb slut Beehive?" Karen answered slightly annoyed.

"Ummmm ... yes, I believe so."

"No ... he's down the hall." Then paused and reconsidered that. "I mean ... 'they're' ... now using air quotes and rolling her eyes ... down the hall."

"Ok. Thank you." He said now slowly turning around and gradually taking his first few steps down the hallway.

"Wait. Hold up." She said staring at him more suspiciously and eyeing him up and down. "Are you the one from Jakarta trying to find Beehive's room to give them one of those new secret mystery cards or whatever the hell they are?"

He stopped. And turned back around. Eyeing her more closely while seemingly contemplating that question. "Ummmm ... I'm not really supposed to answer that."

"Oh, you are, huh?" Her expression now changed to one of more devilish intrigue as a smile crept across her face and the little hamster started running in her brain. "I can tell by your uniform and clipboard. Get in here, I wanna talk to you." Now opening the door for him.

He paused. Standing there for a second. Mulling it over. Then quickly scurried on in.

The three of us watched as he got inside her room and then stopped somewhere between the entryway and the bedroom area as she promptly shut the door behind her and walked over to the foot of the bed and sat down on it patting the spot next to her.

“Come here ... come sit down here next to me.” She said patting the spot on the bed.

He shuffled on over and sat down on the bed next to her noticing a mirror right across from him – about eight-inches from where we’d be able to get the best angle to see them from his jacket button camera – and asked her to scoot down a bit.

She looked at him suspiciously.

“Why?”

“Ummmm ...” He thought about that. “It too lumpy here.”

She didn’t really seem to buy that. But obliged him nonetheless. And scooted down about eight inches where they were both positioned right in front of the mirror and Wing’s camera. Then she turned to him.

“Ok ... you’re the one from Jakarta with those new secret mystery cards, right?”

“Uh huh.” He nodded his head up and down.

“And no one else knows you’re here or who gets those cards, right?”

“Uh huh.” He repeated.

“Not even the people back in Jakarta? Or in this hotel? Because that Lakeisha girl said that no one else here knows anything about this so no one else will know anything about this but us, right?”

“Yes, that correct.”

“Ok, so what do I gotta do to get one of those cards from you?”

He sat there. Wondering about that with his face all scrunched up.

“Have sex with me?”

“What?!! No, you little pervert! I’m not having sex with you. Gross! Who the hell do you think you are?!”

He pondered that a minute. Thinking about something else.

“What about blow-job?”

“Ewwww!! Stop it. You’re disgusting!”

He sat there again. Thinking about something else now.

“How about hand-job?”

“Jesus H. Christ?! Are you frickin’ kidding me?! What the hell’s wrong with you you creepy little fuck.” Looking at him with her mouth all twisted-up and face grossed out. Then was about to say something else when she paused and reconsidered it.

“How many secret mystery cards you got?”

He looked at us in the mirror and smiled.

“Eight.”

“Give me all eight and you got yourself a hand-job.”

He turned back to her. “Two.”

“Ahhh, hell no. Seven.”

“Three.”

“Six.”

“Four.”

“Five. Final offer.” She said.

He paused.

“Ok, deal.” Then started unzipping his pants.

“Ewwww!! Turn it off!! Turn it off!!” I yelled out while Olof and Lakeisha were falling out of their chairs. “No way I’m watching that. No way!” I shouted out as Olof grabbed the remote and quickly turned off the main monitor while almost hitting his head on the desk on his way to the floor as the three of us just sat there in a state of disbelief. Or sweet relief.

“Oh man, I can’t believe he just did that.” I said trying to unfreeze my eyes and process the whole thing.

“Man, that boy is too frickin’ funny.” Lakeisha said in hysterics.

“Oh yeah, he crazy!” Olof added while trying to climb back into his chair as we all just sat there trying to compose ourselves and take it all in. I mean that was pretty crazy. And something none of us had really expected at all. Eyes still bugged out. Just sitting there trying to make sense of it all, realizing that Mama’san might have been right, he might have been a little pervert. But a pretty damn funny one I’d give him that.

I turned back to face them while also trying to pull it all together and figure out what we were going to do next – and what our best course of action was – because we definitely didn’t want to watch Wing get that hand-job but we also didn’t want to miss out what was going to happen next when he went to Lil’ Shmoogy’s room. So we had a choice to make. And it was a tough one.

“You guys?” I said glancing back and forth between them and trying to figure out the pros and cons of it all. “What are we gonna do now?”

Olof turned back to me.

“Well, we kinda have to put the monitor back on otherwise we won’t know when he’s done in there?”

“Yeeaaaahhh ... but there’s no way we can watch that. I mean there’s no way.”

“Well ...” He conceded. “What if we just squint our eyes and don’t focus on him? Would that work?”

“Oh man, I don’t know if I really trust that.”

“Well ... what if like every 30 seconds or so we quickly turn the monitor on and off to see if he’s done or not?”

“Hmmmm ...” I thought about that too. “That could work. But you’d have to be really fast. Like lightning fast. Cause I think I read somewhere if you see an image for more than like half a second it gets seared into your brain, like permanently.”

Olof agreed that he’d read that somewhere too but Lakeisha just looked at us like we were a couple of morons.

“Why don’t you guys just turn the hallway camera on and wait for him to come back outside?”

We both looked at each other – like a couple of morons – giggled. Cheers’d our beers. Then Olof grabbed the remote and clicked on the 8th floor hallway monitor where we saw Wing already standing outside in the hallway.

“What the hell?! ... He’s done already? That was like 60 seconds.” I said.

“Damn that boy’s fast.” Lakeisha chuckled.

We looked up at the monitor and saw Wing just standing outside in the hallway appearing to be talking and giggling to us through his jacket lapel microphone. But Olof had already turned the audio off so all we could see was him just standing there giggling for a few more seconds then motioning for us to follow him down the hallway as he resumed shuffling his way down the hall towards Lil’ Shmoogy’s room.

Olof then pulled the camera up from the other end of the hall and zoomed in as we watched him now duck-waddling along. Happy as a clam. Fresh off a handie. Appearing to be whistling away, not a care in the world, head bobbing up and down, side-to-side, then finally get in front of Lil' Shmoogy's room and just stand there for a second, zip up his pants, and knock.

We all took deep breaths as she opened up the door.

"Who the fuck are you?!" She demanded, staring down at him as the three of us tried to choke back a laugh. Wing possibly too.

"Ummmm ..." He purposely stopped, and hesitated, then looked back down at his clipboard while rummaging through the papers. "Is this ... Karen ... the ... Karen's room?"

"You mean that fucking racist white bitch?"

"Ummmm ... yes." Wing replied.

"No. That bitch is a couple doors down."

"Ok. Thank you." He said, then slowly started tip-toeing his way down the hall.

"Wait. Hold up!" She called out to him as Wing stopped. Smiled. And looked up at the hallway camera.

"Are you the little fucker from Jakarta giving out those secret mystery cards or whatever the fuck they are?"

"Ummmm ..." He paused and turned back around to face her. "I'm not really supposed to answer that."

"Boy, don't get smart with me."

He just stood there. Not saying anything. While Lil' Shmoogy looked at him with even more curiosity now. "Oh, you are, huh?" She said nodding her head up and down. "Get your ass in here I wanna talk to you."

"But I'm not really supposed to go in people's rooms?"

"Boy, I ain't gonna ask you twice. Get your ass in here now!" She barked at him as he quickly hurried on in and immediately went over and sat at the foot of the bed perfectly positioned in front of the mirror.

"Ok." She said walking over to him and standing right in front of him. "Whatta I gotta do to get one of those cards from you?"

He looked up at her with his big brown puppy dog eyes.

"Have sex with me?"

"Boy, I would frickin' destroy you." She said shaking her head. "You couldn't handle this good shit."

He contemplated that, probably realizing she was right.

"What about blow job?" He smiled as Lil' Shmoogy looked down on him while shaking her head. "Puuuuhleeeeeaze ... you pervy little fuck." Although appearing to be pondering that and mulling it over.

"How many secret mystery cards you got?"

"Three." He grinned.

"Gimme all three and you got yourself a blowjob."

Olof spit out his beer.

"I can't give you all three, I can only give you one."

"Boy, you ain't getting no blow job for one lousy card. You gotta give me two of them cards for a fucking blow job."

He considered that a moment. "But I can only give out one card per person?"

"Jesus frickin' Christ boy. For one lousy card you ain't getting no blow job. For one lousy card you're only getting a hand-job. So take those goddamn pants off and hurry the fuck up cause I ain't got all day here."

Wing looked in the mirror and started unzipping his pants.

“Turn it off!! Turn it off!!” I yelled out as Olof quickly changed the channel and fell out of his chair again.
